15 July 2018, 15th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Essentials

Jesus commissions the Twelve Apostles and sends them out on mission. This sounds a little like a company which sells a product or a service sending out sales representatives. The Apostles certainly had training and a message to give. They also had peer support and probably performed group assessment. How does it differ? The Twelve offered what would never become obsolete.

They invited the people to think differently about reality, to accept that the Messiah is amongst them and to take part in building his new Kingdom. To do this they invited them to be more in touch with their spiritual sides and to allow the freshly invigorated spiritual side to totally influence their physical, psychological and social realities. It is the presence of Jesus Christ in the life of each person that will change this thinking. To succeed it will take letting go of anything from the culture that stifles this new way of thinking and letting go of whatever is sinful. The presence of love makes this possible.

Acknowledgement of Bequest

Recently the Friends of St Mary of the Angels Charitable Trust were the recipients of $100,000.00. This very generous gift will help the Trust continue its valuable service to the parish now that the seismic strengthening of the church has been completed.

The Trust exists for the benefit of the restoration of the church of St Mary of the Angels, its ongoing maintenance, upkeep and preservation, the preservation and upkeep of the church's archives and any historical exhibition, maintenance of the presbytery and development and maintenance of the grounds.

When you are making decisions about your Will we invite you to consider the Trust. Whether it is part of your estate, an item of value, a sum of money, large or small, it will be put to good use. It will be a way of leaving a legacy which will benefit the future of the parish.

We are very grateful to all our benefactors and keep them in prayerful remembrance.
