11 May 2025, 4th Sunday of Easter

In our first reading today Paul and Barnabas change their “opus operandi” (mode of operation), by-passing preaching the Good News first to their Jewish compatriots to one of delivering the Gospel message directly to the Gentiles (non-Jews). From our vantage point centuries later, it is easy to overlook the enormous upheaval this provoked in the early Church’s understanding of what it means to profess faith in Jesus.

What we do know from the Acts of the Apostles is that the rapid growth of the faith among the Gentiles precipitated a major crisis in the Church’s sense of identity and composition. The apostles and elders at the Council of Jerusalem may have decided “not to make things more difficult for pagans to turn to God” (cf. Acts 15:19), but we also know from Acts that Paul had to face persistent hostility and reproach from the more hard-line Jewish converts long after the ruling was made by the Council.

One would think that the gospel today would silence any such divisive bickering when the Lord says, “The sheep that belong to me listen to my voice”. Sadly, however, divisions over what it means to belong and what it means to listen to the Lord’s voice continue to rankle believers irrespective of the decisions made by the various Councils of the Church. A scandal for some, a matter of probity for others. Whether understood in terms of scandal or of principle, resulting divisions affect the way we judge others, especially when such divisions are reduced to an “us and them” mentality in which the one demonises the other.

The fragmentation of our world today into various “camps” at variance with each other probably exacerbates or exposes the differing voices in the Church clamouring not only to be heard, but each perhaps wanting to drown out the other. In such confusing and conflicting times, we may only be able to raise the timid standard of hope found in the words of our second reading: “I, John, saw a huge number, impossible to count, of people from every nation, race, tribe and language...standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb”. A timid standard because of our own fragility and limitations, but a hope nevertheless that is vouchsafe in the victory of the Lamb, who alone can make whole what is broken and make new what has become all too cynical.

Fr Michael Young sm—Assistant Priest

World Day of Prayer for Vocations

In his message for the 62nd World Day of Prayer for Vocations, Pope Francis wrote: "A vocation is a precious gift that God sows in our heart, a call to leave ourselves behind and embark on a journey of love and service." Please pray for our seminarians Kinh, Emilio, Gerson, Dyester and Kham, and for all those discerning the call to priesthood and religious life. Pray too that more young people will generously say yes to God's call. Vocations are fostered within faith communities. So who can you encourage? Pray for them | Invite them to consider priesthood or religious life | Affirm their gifts and qualities | Encourage them to be open to God's call.

National Shrine Prayer

E te Atua, Creator of heaven and earth,
Source of all life, giver of all that is good,
We pray for Aotearoa New Zealand

And for all who come to her shores and make it their home.

We recall with gratitude our forebears in the Faith,
Who dedicated this country to the care of Mary,
Mother of God, assumed into heaven.

Pour out your Spirit upon us as we seek to respond to you,
Bringing your peace and harmony to this sacred land.

May we continue to praise you as we carry the Good News of Jesus Christ to our brothers and sisters.

We make this prayer through Christ, our Lord. Amen.
Mary, assumed into heaven; pray for us.

What's in a Name?

Robert Prevost has been elected the first North American leader of the Catholic Church, taking the name Pope Leo XIV. Though American Pope Leo worked for many years in Peru as a missionary.

Pope Leo XIV's choice of name signals a commitment to social justice. Pope Leo XIII, who was head of the Catholic Church from 1878 to 1903, laid the foundation for modern Catholic social thought, most famously with his 1891 encyclical Rerum Novarum, which addressed workers' rights and capitalism at the dawn of the industrial age.

Significantly, he presided over one of the most revolutionary reforms Francis made, when he added three women to the voting bloc that decides which bishop nominations to forward to the pope.

Perhaps he appealed to his brother cardinals because of his quiet style and support for Francis, as well as his commitment to social justice issues.

The Jubilee Prayer

Father in heaven,
may the faith you have given us
in your son, Jesus Christ,
our brother,
and the flame of love enkindled
in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, reawaken in us the blessed hope for the coming of your kingdom.

May the grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope, a yearning for the treasures of heaven.

May that same grace spread the joy and peace of our Redeemer
throughout the earth.
To you our God, eternally blessed,
be glory and praise for ever.

Amen
