Every year on November 9, the Church throughout the world celebrates the Feast of the Dedication of the Basilica of St John Lateran. It might seem curious that Catholics in New Zealand mark the feast of a church on the opposite side of the world, but there are deep historical, theological, and spiritual reasons for doing so.

The Basilica of St John Lateran in Rome is the oldest Christian Basilica. It was commissioned by the Emperor Constantine around the year 324 AD, shortly after Christianity was legalised. Constantine himself donated the land on which the basilica still stands today.

Its full title is quite a mouthful: "The Archbasilica of the Most Holy Saviour and of Saints John the Baptist and John the Evangelist at the Lateran." This name reminds us that the basilica is first and foremost dedicated to Christ the Saviour, with John the Baptist and John the Evangelist honoured as secondary patrons, both of whom point us toward Jesus in their lives and witness.

The Lateran is known as the "mother and head of all churches in the world." It holds this title because it is the cathedral church of the Pope, the Bishop of Rome. His cathedra, the official teaching chair, is there, making it the true seat of the papacy, even more so than St Peter's Basilica.

We have all heard of Vatican II, the Ecumenical council that took place in the 1960s. Across the centuries, five ecumenical councils were held at the Lateran, shaping the faith and discipline of the Church. For a thousand years, the adjoining Lateran Palace served as the papal residence before the Popes moved to the Vatican.

So when we celebrate this feast, we are honouring one of the most ancient buildings in Rome that is still used daily for prayer. We also celebrate the unity of the whole Church, gathered around the successor of Peter, and we are reminded of how our church has developed through Ecumenical Councils, that have helped to guide and unite the Church in Christ.

Responsorial Psalm 45

R. The waters of the river gladden the city of God.

God is for us a refuge and strength, a helper close at hand, in time of distress: so we shall not fear though the earth should rock, though the mountains fall into the depths of the sea. R.

The waters of a river give joy to God's city, the holy place where the Most High dwells. God is within, it cannot be shaken; God will help it at the dawning of the day. R.

The Lord of hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our stronghold. Come, consider the works of the Lord the redoubtable deeds he has done on the earth.. R.

The stream of the river maketh the city of God joyful.

National Shrine Prayer

E te Atua , Creator of heaven and earth,
Source of all life, giver of all that is good,

We pray for Aotearoa New Zealand

And for all who come to her shores and make it their home.

We recall with gratitude our forebears in the Faith,

Who dedicated this country to the care of Mary,

Mother of God, assumed into heaven.

Pour out your Spirit upon us as we seek to respond to you,

Bringing your peace and harmony to this sacred land.

May we continue to praise you as we carry the Good News of Jesus Christ to our brothers and sisters.

We make this prayer through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Mary, assumed into heaven; pray for us.

Advent: a hikoī for Pilgrims of Hope

In this new book, Bringing the Word to Life, Fr James Lyons and other Catholic leaders and writers, including Cardinal John Dew, offer timely reflections for each day of Advent and Christmas. Connecting Biblical truth with modern-day examples, they provide valuable spiritual nourishment for Catholics as this Year of Jubilee comes to a close – and a new year begins. As Archbishop Paul says, "I highly recommend it, and I know that you will find the reflections by fellow Catholics relevant and reflecting our faith experience within the context of this beautiful country we live in." If you are interesting on purchasing for $8.00, please contact the Parish Office to make an order.
